Voting

is

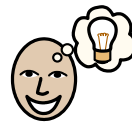

good

for

giving

your opinion.

Adults

vote

in

elections.

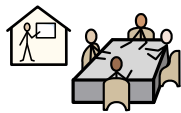

Children

vote

for

school council

members.

People

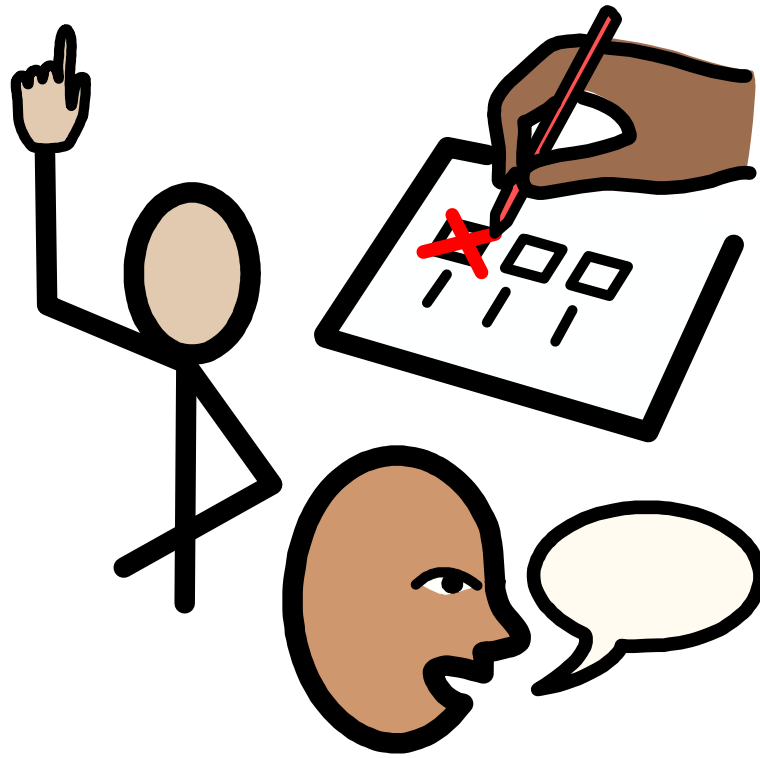

vote

for

television programmes.

allows

to

give

their

secretly.

People

are

honest

when

they

vote

secretly.

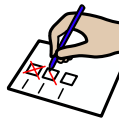

You can

vote

by

marking a piece of paper.

at

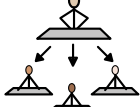

meetings

putting your hand up.

 Adults can vote for who runs the country.

 The people who run the country are called politicians.

 Politicians are elected.

 This is called an election.

 If you are 18+  you can  register to  vote.

 You  register to  vote with your  local council.

 You can  arrange to  vote by  post.

 You can  arrange a  friend to  vote on  your behalf.

 Before
  an election,
  the council
  send you
  a polling card.

 You take
  this to
  a polling station.

 Go into
  the polling booth.

 Mark
  the ballot paper
  and
  put it in
  the ballot box.

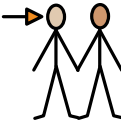

People

vote

on television programmes.

They

might

vote

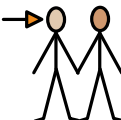

for their

favourite

singer.

They

might

vote

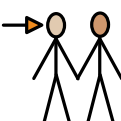

for their

favourite

celebrity.

They

might

vote

for their

dancers.

Television programmes use different ways to vote.
